Attempting to prove ordinance is invalid declares Charlton

Pascagoula works commissioner Alvin H. Charlton is taking to court his squabble with the other two city officers.

Charlton told the Chronicle Monday that he will file a suit in chancery court this week seeking to have the Nov. 7 ordinance declared invalid.

The ordinance, superseding one of 1919 that defined duties of the three elected officials, stripped Charlton of his hiring and firing powers.

"I am taking this action," said Charlton, "to protect my Mayor Ben L. Briggs and city clerk Vincent P. Ros said Monday that they had not been notified of works commissioner Alvin Charlton's intention to go to court. Briggs and Ros told the Chronicle that they had no statement to make "at this time."

office, to protect the employees of my department and to protect the interests of the public that elected me."

Charlton's attorney George Simmerman said that the suit will seek:

1) To have the court find the November ordinance invalid, or

2) In case the ordinance is declared to be valid to have it set aside until completion of this administration's term of office.

Simmerman said he believes the ordinance is invalid because it attempts to alter duties and obligations that Charlton was elected to assume.

Shipbuilder Killed at Moss Point

Moss Point, Miss., Nov. 19.—John De Angelo, aged 73 years, one of the best known shipbuilders of the Gulf coast, was accidentally killed at his shipbuilding plant here this afternoon. De Angelo was sitting near where some piling was being driven and when one of the piles was being placed in position the rope broke and the pile struck him on the side of his head, killing him almost instantly. The accident was witnessed by several persons and it was said that had De Angelo attempted to move when the piling started to fall he would have escaped unhurt.

Mr. De Angelo was a native of Italy, but had resided here for many years. Since coming to Moss Point he had been engaged in ship work. He retired from active work several years ago, turning his plant over to his sons. However, as senior member of the company he has always taken an active interest in the affairs of the concern.

It was only recently that Mr. De Angelo in company with local and Mobile parties decided to construct sailing vessels here and the keel for the first vessel would probably have been laid this week had not the accident occurred. The piles that were being driven were for the purpose of supporting the keel and it was while watching this part of the work that the designer of the vessel to be built met his death. Arrangements for the funeral have not been fixed, but in all probability it will be held Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday. The deceased is survived by three sons and three daughters, all residents of Moss Point with the exception of one who is living in Louisiana.

FOR THE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Campaign to Raise Funds for Recreation and Entertainment of Men Outside of Training Camps.

Hon. Geo. P. Money, state representative of the War Department Commission on Training Camp Activities, addressed a large and interested audience at the courthouse Thursday night. Mr. Money has an accurate and comprehensive grasp of the scope and necessity of this great and patriotic work and kept the undivided attention of his audience through a talk of nearly two hours.

At the close of his address the meeting went into formal organization by electing Mr. E. B. Martin chairman and Mr. T. G. Hibbler secretary. The following resolutions were adopted:

"RESOLVED, That we undertake to raise the sum of $320.00 of the War Camp Community Recreation Fund allotted to Pascagoula, and for this purpose Mrs. S. P. Walker is appointed chairman of the soliciting or campaign committee.

"FUTHER RESOLVED, That all the business and civic organizations of this community, and all associations and clubs, the citizens and newspapers, and Associated Press, are earnestly urged to lend their aid in this patriotic purpose for the benefit of the American soldier and the Army."

This movement is nation-wide and it is proposed to raise a fund for this work amounting to about $4,000,000, or $3 for each soldier and sailor in the training camps. As stated above Pascagoula's share of this sum is $320, on a population basis.

The worthiness and patriotism of the movement is unquestioned and no doubt is felt that our pro rata will be readily forthcoming. When more than one hundred of our own home boys are sacrificing everything for their country, those of us who remain behind in peace and safety are certainly not going to be niggardly with our dollars.
